

Grant Writing 102: How and Where to Find Grants

Learning how to write a grant is not an easy task. Grant Writing 101 gives vital information on that process. Learning where and how to find a grant is another matter. This seminar is designed to demonstrate how to use the logic model, introduced in Grant Writing 101, is used to match their organization's values, goals and objectives, with potential grant providers. This will be done by as the presenter actually, via internet, accesses a searchable database of private grantmakers that accept inquiries and proposals from a variety of organizations; federal deadlines; links to state funding agencies; and a growing database of international grantmakers.
